Phillips has the distinction of being the first North Carolinian to be decorated for bravery with the French Croix de Guerre.

Large Onion.

Deputy collector Carl Shores goes into onion raising like he does after blockade stills. He exhibited an onion from his garden Wednesday that measured sixteen inches in circumference.

Stills Captured.

Deputy collectors Shores and Morrison, and deputy sheriff Knight, last Saturday broke up a still four miles northeast of West, End, of 100-gallons capacity. They poured out 1500 gallons of beer.

Officers Shores and Knight on Monday made a raid about six miles north of Vass, and broke up a splendid 45-gallon copper still. Two colored men were operating the still when the officers appeared, and of course they started for the tall and uncut. One of the men, Angus Black, had a bucket of hot liquid on his arm at the moment the law interposed, and in his sudden jump he fell, in the fall his arm dipped in the hot stuff. As a result he has a badly scalded arm, the skin peeling off. Mr. Shores outran him in two hundred yards, and he is now in Carthage jail in default of $1,000 bond, for appearance at Federal court.

A Real Philanthropist.

"Miss Goode is such a kind-hearted person," remarked the sympathetic soul. "Always trying to help the poor, I understand."

"Indeed she is," rejoined the society butterfly, "when she goes to a dance she picks out all the poor dancers in the room and helps them learn the steps."

Making Himself Felt in Business.

"What's that boy of yours doing now, Uncle Gabe?" asked the returned villager. "He's takin' drawin' lessons up to the city."

"Didn't know he had any artistic tendencies."

"He ain't. He's a learnin' to be a dentist, by heck."

History Repeated.

"The old Greeks and Romans were doing exactly what modern capitalists are accused of doing now."

"What is that?"

"Trying to invest the capital of others so as to get hold of it themselves."

Not Consulted.

"What did her father say when you asked permission to marry his daughter?"

"I didn't ask him."

"You didn't?"

"No. She and her mother said it wasn't necessary. They were running affairs in that house."

Thoroughly Trained.

"Now, sir," said the captain of the club, "you understand we want a secretary who is thoroughly accustomed to managing men."

"In that case," said the applicant, nervously, "I'm afraid it's not me you want, but my wife."

TOO MUCH FOR DAD.

"I say old Topper, that's a bright boy you have. How old is he?"

"Well, I can't quite make out, you see he was born on the 29th of February."

BRO-MAL-GINE

THE ONE SAFE HEADACHE REMEDY

Wins Commendation From Carolina's Foremost Physicians.

Read what they say. Leading physician in western town says "I do not hesitate to prescribe Bro-Mal-Gine, for it gives relief, and I get no unpleasant symptoms afterwards."

Prominent physician in eastern city says: "I have been prescribing Bro-Mal-Gine for several years and I find it entirely reliable, giving relief in severe cases of headache without any unpleasant after effects and I unhesitatingly recommend it."

Long experienced physician in large eastern city says: "I do not hesitate to recommend Bro-Mal-Gine as a very reliable remedy for migraine and ordinary headaches, for I have watched its effects, and find it effective, and safe; I have occasion to prescribe it often."

The names of these physicians can be supplied if necessary, all are prominent practitioners today in their respective towns.

Don't experiment—take Bro-Mal-Gine—play safe. Put up in 10c, 25c, 50c bottles and at all fountains by the dose.
